DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or

(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

2. Claims 1-3, 8-10 and 15-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent 6,506,513 (Yonetsu et al.).

With regards to claims 1-2, Yonetsu et al. discloses a liquid fuel housing tank for fuel cell comprising, as illustrated in Figures 1-18, an anode b; a cathode d; an anode reservoir 1 that contains a fuel solution of methanol in water and the anode; a float 26 responsive to fuel solution density immersed in a volume of fuel solution that serves as a fuel concentration indicator. (See, column 4, line 33 to column 5, line 13; column 12, lines 13-63).

With regards to claims 3-5, Yonetsu et al. further discloses a volume of fuel solution 7 is contained within a float chamber 5 in fluid contact with the anode reservoir 1 and separated from the anode reservoir by a semi-permeable filter membrane 8 or fuel channel 3. (See, column 4, line 50 to column 6, line 47, as observed in the Figures).

With regards to claims 6-9, Yonetsu et al. suggests a fuel scale aligned with a transparent window 25 and other ways of determining the liquid level of the fuel solution. Furthermore, Yonetsu et al. teaches the float 26 controls the release of the fuel solution when the float completes an electrical circuit (See, column 12, lines 9-63; Figures 17-18).

With regards to claims 10-15, the claims are directed to method claims and are commensurate in scope with claims 1-9 and are rejected for the same reasons as set forth above.

Response to Amendment

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-15 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
